Shortage of Court Parking Space Continues To Plague City Council

The perennial problem of parking space in the courts for GHI home owners again took much of the city council's time at the regular meeting of Monday, Aug. 11.

Two separate issues brought the matter before the council, a petition by 2 court Westway for a resurfaced and enlarged parking area, and a move initiated by Councilman Ben Goldfaden to remove from a city ordinance the implication that residents of a court are required to pay a dollar a year for a parking space when the court parking area has been lined off.

The council quickly approved the request of the Westway court to repair and resurface completely with black top the court parking area, which has been in bad shape for some time. The council authorized City Manager Charles McDonald to spend the approximately $170 he roughly estimated it would cost.

The council also directed the manager to approach Greenbelt Homes Inc. (who own the land but have dedicated the court parking areas to the city) for permission to enlarge the court area. The residents reported that a few people own as many as three cars but that presently there are only ten spaces for the ten units in the court.

In a side issue, the Westway petitioners complained that people in the area, especially from other courts, are depositing trash and old pieces of furniture near the entrance to the court because it seems to be a convenient place. This practice is making the court environment extremely unsightly. The council and the manager pointed out that no direct action can be taken unless a complaint is registered against the guilty parties. If the police see that trash is piled up in a court, they will sometimes distribute warnings to all the residents.

Returning to the parking problem, the council challenged City Manager McDonald's interpretation of the ordinance on court parking. He claimed that the wording clearly indicated to him that it was mandatory for residents to purchase parking permits after spaces were lined off. He quoted the words that permits "shall be issued," which he said made it mandatory.

The council admitted that this wording might be subject to such interpretation and insisted that wording be added which clearly made it optional for a resident to purchase a permit. Both Goldfaden and Mayor Tom Canning argued strongly that it was not proper to require a resident to pay for parking in his own court area. They felt that spaces not purchased could be left open for visitors or non-paying residents who would not then have a guaranteed parking space and would have to take their chances.

McDonald strongly opposed such an arrangement as unfair to paying parkers. He cited one case of a non-parking man who works in the city gets home earlier than other residents, and could always get a free space. The council felt that this situation was his good luck and that there would be other times when he would find himself out of luck. The members said they would show no sympathy to him or others like him if they complained about lack of parking space. The manager was directed to prepare an amendment to the ordinance making it optional.

"Hot Rods" on Lakeside

In other matters, the council heard a letter signed by Bernard Sisco, president of Lakeside Home Owners, in which he reported that a recent board meeting of the group took up the matter of teenagers

Special Council Meeting

The city council has scheduled a special meeting for Monday, Aug. 18, in the city offices. The meeting has been called to discuss further the sites for the proposed new city office building and the youth center building to be located in the vicinity of the commercial center.

using Lakeside Dr. as a raceway for their "hot rods," especially in the small hours of the morning. The letter charged that the city police were not cooperating or making a real attempt to arrest the offenders.

However, Chief of Police Jim Williams said that at least one complaint in the letter was a three-year-old case and that the reports of wild teenage racing games, such as "chicken," were exaggerated. He said only one complaint has been registered since the first of Jan., and the police caught the offenders. Chief Williams said that he had discussed the matter with Sisco, who volunteered to withdraw the letter.

Councilman Goldfaden reported that he knew about several cases of teenage racing, especially on the straightaway at the end of Lakeside Dr. He said there was an occurrence as late as last Sunday, but that in none of these cases has there been a complaint to the police. He said he urged the people who had been bothered to call the police if they expected action to be taken. Chief Williams pointed out that it would be easy to catch the racers, since Lakeside is a dead end and they have to run around and come back out.

Nursery School Request

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School presented a request to the city council that it be given space in the proposed new youth center building for nursery school quarters. Representatives of the nursery school, who said that the school may eventually have to close down for lack of space, said they only wanted the use of a room during the morning hours when the youth center would not be in use. They planned to pay rent for the room.

The council noted not even initial sketches have yet been prepared by the architects for the youth center. This next step is waiting on a decision by the council on the exact site of the building. However, the nursery school was told it would be given consideration, although some members of the council indicated that this may lead to the question as to whether the use of the building should be confined to youth activities or planned for general use by the community.

Disapprove Signs

The council was in a mood to deplore signs at this meeting. Two drew the councilmen's ire—the new huge sign over the entrance of the Greenbelt National Guard armory and two large signs advertising a Greenbelt apartment building.

In the first case, the council ordered a protest to the armory. In the second case, McDonald reported that the building inspector, who had issued a permit for them, had finally come around to see them and was going to order them taken down.

Patty Glover, at NIH, Victim of Leukemia

A four and a half year old Greenbelt girl, active in the Greenbelt Majorettes even though afflicted with leukemia, is fighting an extended battle against the dread disease. Little Patricia Ann ("Patty") Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn R. Glover, 6-J Plateau, returned to the National Institutes of Health Bethesda after a relapse on July 28.

Originally referred to NIH in June 1957, when the disease was diagnosed, Patty responded so well to treatment that she was able to be at home during the past year. During this time she was active around the neighborhood like any normal little girl.

At present Patty is under treatment with a new drug requiring the constant attention available only at a hospital. She will be at NIH for at least six weeks.

Original diagnosis of Patty's illness was made by Dr. Hans Wodak, who arranged for her admittance to NIH.

Patty has two younger brothers, Kenny, 3, and Roy, 10 months.

Businessmen Hopeful Of Placing Signs Soon

By Virginia Beauchamp

Progress is being made, President Donn C. Liston of the Greenbelt Businessmen's Association reported at the group's meeting this week, on getting signs posted outside of Greenbelt to advertise the presence of the Greenbelt shopping center. He displayed a sample sign, worked up as a model by Justin Baum of the organization's Promotion Committee, and gave estimates of cost from a sign company for the construction and painting of a number of signs similar to the sample. Two steps must be taken, Liston reported, before the signs can become an actuality: to secure permission from the Prince Georges County Building Inspector for the erection of the signs, and to acquire permission from each individual private landowner on whose property the signs are to be placed. No signs are permitted on public lands, he pointed out.

Although various other means of promoting Greenbelt were discussed at the Tuesday morning meeting, following the Promotion Committee's report, specific action was withheld pending completion of the membership roster. A detailed report on a possible plan to hire a professional public relations firm, expected at next week's meeting, should also precede decisions on any specific action, it was felt.

New Lakewood Housing Development Previewed For Greenbelt Residents

A special preview of the new Lakewood development is being held for Greenbelt residents during the last three days of this week. Two completely furnished model homes are on display at the site of the new 107-home community located off Crescent Rd., about halfway between St. Hugh's and Greenbelt Lake Park. There are free refreshments, and pony rides will be provided for the youngsters on Saturday.

Greenbelt Youngsters Win Library Awards

Six Greenbelt youngsters, members of the Greenbelt Library Reading Club of 1958, each achieved the high mark of reading 21 books during the summer and reporting on them satisfactorily. The six were awarded gold star certificates by Librarian Marjorie Muir, who said that their work was exceptional.

Two are students at St. Hugh's, Rosemarie Aulisio and John Linstrom, both going into the fifth grade. The others are Barbara Feller, who will be in the sixth grade of Center School, and Barbara Ann Chotiner, Jane Beale and Margie Feller, who will enter the seventh grade of Greenbelt Junior High.

Ten readers won a certificate with a silver star for reading and reporting on at least seven books. These are Bonnie Boykoff, Kathy Chotiner, Anne D. Fennell, Rebecca Fisher, Elizabeth Guppy, Russell Guitierrez, Nancy Haslinger, Whitey Jarvis, David Klein, and Gordon Wayne. The last two were the youngest in the reading club to receive awards, both just going into the third grade at North End and Center School respectively.

Six readers read at least three books and qualified for the County Library Bookmobile naming contest as did the others. They are Susan Boggs, Eva Garin, Henry Haslinger, Cathy Hoffman, Susan Carol Jackson, and Judy Simkov.

The Greenbelt Library program is carried on as part of the summer reading program of the Prince Georges County Memorial Public Library. The program at Greenbelt is described by Miss Louise McDiarmid, county juvenile librarian, as one of the outstanding summer programs in the county. She notes that Mrs. Muir has had unusual success with encouraging Greenbelt youngsters to read during the summer.

Weatherman Wanted

Greenbelt's official weather station is scheduled to be closed on Sept. 1, unless some public spirited citizen volunteers his services soon. Bill Klein, who has been taking daily weather observations in Greenbelt for the past ten years, is planning to move out of this area in Sept., and he is looking for someone to take his place as a cooperative observer.

The Greenbelt station is one of several thousand maintained by the United States Weather Bureau in all parts of the country. The data obtained from this network of stations comprises a valuable part of the nation's climatological record because of the fact that atmospheric conditions may differ markedly over short distances.

Observations of temperature and precipitation are taken once a day and summarized at the end of each month. The job requires about five minutes a day, pays no salary, and can be handled by any responsible adult. Although the Greenbelt station is now located on Ridge between Northway and Plateau, it can be moved to any open location convenient to the observer. If interested, call Mr. Klein at GR. 4-8897.

COMMISSIONERS PRAISED

The Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Prince Georges County in a public statement has commended the County Commissioners for their matching of $4,000 Federal funds for the Prince Georges County Memorial Library.

This step, the League asserts, means the County Library can move forward a little in its attempt to bring library service to all people in the County.

The homes are three-bedroom ramblers with full basement selling for $15,500. Such features as garbage disposal units and built-in desk and bookcases are included in the house, which features a separate dining room and a large ranch kitchen.

The main street of the new community, which is being built by the Buchanan Company, is Greenhill Rd., running north off Crescent and to be joined to Hillside Rd. at Research Rd. by the city. Short streets run off Greenhill Rd., and these end in cul-de-sacs with circular courts or turn-arounds. The new subdivision, formerly known as Green Valley, has been in the planning stage for more than five years. All the residential vacant land was purchased in 1954 by Warner-Kanter, Inc., which built four model homes off Greenbelt Rd. but was never able to get a housing development started. The Buchanan Company has moved rapidly after purchasing the subdivision from Warner-Kanter about four months ago.

The homes will have gas cooking and heating, the first residential units in the city to be serviced by gas. The Washington Gas Light Company has just obtained a franchise from the city to bring in gas along Edmonston and Crescent Rds. into the new development.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Louise C. Eldred

Have you ever thought about the job keeping ten branches and three bookmobiles running smoothly? In Prince Georges County Memorial Library System this job is titled Head of Branches and is filled by Mrs. Mildred Phillips.

Mrs. Phillips is a neatly dressed, dark haired woman, with a rather shy smile, and a good sense of humor. And there are days when you need a sense of humor! Like the day when you have to substitute for a sick branch librarian and you have guests coming for dinner; or the evening when you are coming down with a cold and the moderator of a discussion group is suddenly called out of town leaving you to take over; or just as the bookmobile is leaving for a trip the bookmobile librarian can't make it and you're the only person available! Yes, there are days when it seems like a three ring circus! But there are the not-so-hecky days when time can and is spent revising the manual of procedures, checking sites for bookmobile stops, visiting branches, planning the re-arrangement of furniture, discussing changes in library hours and personnel, suggesting display materials, and doing innumerable other supervisory jobs. Mrs. Phillips' keen interest in people and her sensitivity to their problems, coupled with her ability and training to evaluate and organize, make her a valuable staff member.

Forthcoming columns will acquaint readers with many other types of library work and personnel. You'll want to meet them, too.

WATERMELON FESTIVAL

The festival will be held behind the church at 40 Ridge.

ONE-SIDED OPINIONS

To the Editor:

As a woman, I am indeed insulted to be categorized under the so-called "all-American" Look that is so pictured in your last issue. If that is the "all-American" Look, then God help the Americans!

Just because some crack-pot male body "worshiper" declares his one-sided opinions about dress, he has no right to pin his ideals on the American woman. Modesty has long been a womanly virtue that has ranked high on the list of the feminine ideals. There are those who seek to destroy this.

There are extremes to everything; there certainly is no reason to classify the American women at either end of these. Have we forgotten that there is also a happy medium in dress? Just because some people advocate we descended from apes, do we have to act like one? I, for one, believe the "All-American" Look is the happy medium between the two extremes of dress. And the woman that finds herself on the "best-dressed women of America" list is noticeably "well-dressed," and not "un-dressed."

Sincerely yours,
An "all-American" woman

Top Table Tennis Star To Compete Locally

Tabor Hazi, former national table tennis singles champion, and other top ranking D. C. and Baltimore players will compete in the first annual Greenbelt tournament schedule for Aug. 26-28, it was announced last week by David Grege, chairman. Happy Birthday To You who have summertime birthdays will be delighted with this cake. It's a lovely pink (or green) and white party treat that mom can easily make.

Happy Birthday Cake

2-1/4 cups Swans Down cake flour
2-1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1-1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
Milk*
1 teaspoon vanilla
Seven Minute Frosting—Tinted Coconut
*With butter or margarine, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable shortening use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then add flour mixture, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and blend.
Pour batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, 1-1/2 inches deep, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Seven Minute Frosting

2 egg whites, unbeaten
1-1/2 cups sugar
Dash of salt
1/3 cup water
2 teaspoons light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, water, and corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat about 1 minute, or until thoroughly mixed. Then place over boiling water and beat constantly with sturdy egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottoms and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper or spoon.)
Remove from boiling water. For a very smooth and satiny frosting, pour at once into a large bowl for final beating. Then add vanilla and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread. Makes 4-1/2 cups frosting or enough to cover tops and sides of 2, 9-inch layers. Sprinkle sides of cake with coconut tinted pink or green. Use pink or green lettering and candles, if desired.
Tinted Coconut. Place 1 teaspoon milk or water in bowl. Add few drops of pink or green coloring and mix well. Add coconut (1 3-1/2 oz. can angel flake coconut), toss with fork until coconut is tinted throughout.
